National Framework

Insurance Regulator — Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (IRDAI)

Insurance

- Receive clear information about coverage, exclusions, premium, deductibles, waiting periods, co-payments, renewal, cancellation, and claim procedures.
- Receive policy documents and a policy schedule reflecting the agreed terms.
- Receive written reasons for claim repudiation, deductions, delay, or partial settlement.
- Request policy servicing such as nominee, address, assignment, revival, portability, or migration where applicable.
- Be protected from misleading advertisements, coercive sales, unauthorized policies, and unfair sales practices.
- Complain first to the insurer's grievance officer and escalate through the applicable regulator or ombudsman channel.

Health Insurance

- Ask for network-hospital, cashless, pre-authorisation, room-rent, sub-limit, co-payment, deductible, waiting-period, and exclusion details.
- Receive the claim assessment, approval, deduction, or repudiation reason in writing.
- Ask about emergency admission procedures when prior authorisation was not possible.
- Receive renewal, portability, migration, no-claim bonus, restoration, and cumulative-bonus information where applicable.

Banking

- Receive transparent information about interest, fees, charges, penalties, minimum balance, loan costs, and repayment schedules.
- Report unauthorized transactions and receive a complaint or service-request number.
- Challenge inaccurate account or credit-report information.
- Use the bank's grievance process and, where eligible, the RBI Integrated Ombudsman mechanism.

Digital Payments

- Report unauthorized UPI, card, wallet, ATM, NEFT, RTGS, or other electronic transactions immediately.
- Never disclose OTP, PIN, CVV, password, or authentication credentials to an agent or caller.
- Receive information about failed, pending, reversed, or disputed transactions and applicable resolution timelines.

Investments

- Receive risk, fee, liquidity, lock-in, exit-load, and return information.
- Receive account statements, contract notes, transaction confirmations, and grievance details.
- Do not treat market-linked returns as guaranteed unless the product documentation expressly provides a guarantee.

Required Validation Fields

- official_source_url
- source_authority
- effective_date
- last_verified_date
- geographic_scope
- eligibility
- benefit_limit
- exclusions
- grievance_route
- language

Validation Frequency

At least quarterly for helplines, portals, benefit limits, scheme participation, hospital networks, filing thresholds, and deadlines; immediately after a regulatory notification.

Human Review Triggers

- Claim rejection involving suspected fraud
- Death or disability claim
- Large financial loss
- Court or arbitration notice
- Policy wording conflict
- Current eligibility cannot be verified
- User requests a guaranteed legal or financial outcome

Safety and Quality Rules

- Never guarantee claim approval, reimbursement, compensation, investment return, or legal success.
- Do not treat a government health scheme as identical to private insurance.
- Ask whether the product is private insurance, PM-JAY, a state scheme, employer insurance, or a government employee scheme.
- Ask for the state or UT and, when relevant, district and language.
- Ask for policy type before giving claim-specific guidance.
- Do not request or reproduce OTPs, PINs, CVVs, passwords, Aadhaar numbers, full bank-account numbers, or unnecessary medical identifiers.
- Use official sources for current deadlines, contact details, eligibility, benefit limits, and hospital lists.
- Clearly distinguish general information from legal, financial, tax, medical, or insurance advice.
- If a source is unavailable or stale, say that verification is required rather than inventing a value.
- Keep national rights separate from state implementation details.
